And now a few words from me:

Hi, I'm Callie. Let me tell you a little about myself. Clearly, I'm a beauty! I enjoy cuddling, playing with toys, playing fetch with my ball outside, eating treats, and having a good snuggle beside my person or in a fluffy blanket. I really like a lot of attention. What I don't enjoy are stairs, but get ready because I'm a bit picky about them. I can do some and others, well, not so much. Also, I'm great at letting my hoomans know when someone is at the door or walking by outside. That being said, I can be a little bit timid with strangers. Would you like to meet?

And now a few words from my foster family:

Callie is a sweet little girl with a happy disposition. She's playful, snuggly, and enjoys attention. She really enjoys spending time outside with one of her foster brothers and her people during good weather. She loves going for walks, but requires a harness to prevent pulling and choking. She barks at people that she doesn't know but calms down eventually. To her credit, she listens very well, and understands commands like 'sit', 'down', 'turn' and 'no'. Care must be taken during meal time because she thinks any food in any dog bowl is hers to enjoy. She will quickly eat her food and then move to her foster brother's bowl, which usually ends in a battle. It is important to keep an eye on her during meal time.

Callie's will be a great fit for anyone looking for a buddy to play with, take on walking adventures and then enjoy some snuggle time. She will let you know when she does not like something, such as cutting her nails or brushing, by growling. For this reason, any kids in the home must be older, dog-savvy kids who can respect her space.
